

Andrew Reisner

Reading List for Theoretical Reason

27 May 14:00-16:00 room E339. Two arguments for evidentialism: Shah, Nishi (2006) 'A New Argument for Evidentialism' Philosophical Quarterly 56 (225): 481-498; Kelly, Thomas (2002) 'The Rationality of Belief and Other Propositional Attitudes' Philosophical Studies 110 (2): 163-196.

28 May 14:00-16:00 room E347. The importance of truth for evidentialism: Skorupski, John (2011) The Domain of Reasons, Ch. 2. Stich, Stephen (1993) The Fragmentation of Reason: Preface to a Pragmatic Theory of Cognitive Evaluation, Ch. 5.

29 May 14:00-16:00 room D231: Undermining the case for evidentialism, new and old: Steglich-Petersen, Asbjørn (2008) 'Does Doxastic Transparency Support Evidentialism?' Dialectica 62 (4): 541-547 and (2006) 'No Norm Needed: On the Aim of Belief' Philosophical Quarterly 56 (225): 499-516. Reisner, Andrew, 'The Possibility of Pragmatic Reasons for Belief and the Wrong Kind of Reasons Problem' Philosophical Studies 145 (2): 257-272.

30 May 14:00-16:00 room E339: Doxastic voluntarism: McHugh, Conor (2012), 'Epistemic Deontology and Voluntariness' Erkenntnis 77 (1):65-94. Reisner, Andrew (forthcoming) 'Leaps of Knowledge' in Timothy Chan (ed) The Aim of Belief, OUP.

31 May 14:00-16:00 room E339. What are beliefs?: Tumulty, Maura (2011) 'Delusions and Dispositionalism about Belief' Mind and Language 26 (5): 596-628. Barcan Marcus, Ruth (1990) Some Revisionary Proposals about Belief and Believing' Philosophy and Phenomenological Research 50: 133-153.